DAY 18: forced to watch

by seabsinthesea \(FolieaBlue\)

Summary

Ghost Bdubs follows Etho, might expand this some day we'll see Bdubs floats. He's not used to being a ghost, in the past world they were instantly sent to a void until the end, in fact, he thinks that might have happened to the others. He's the only ghost as far as he can see.

The first thing he does after waking in the remains of their snow fort is find Etho.

It's heartbreaking to see his best friend looking so lost, seemingly blaming himself for Bdubs' own foolish mistakes. He wants to shout at him, scream at him, anything to be heard and get the message across that no this isn't your fault, I was reckless, I don't blame you, I would never blame you. But he can't, and he hates it more than anything.
