Lifesteal > Eastside > Create a Posting

by BloodyNocturne \(AvoxUtopia\)

Summary

Craigslislist has always been an odd place, a collection of people in the same place; selling, buying, searching, looking to give or take something. And sometimes, there's small connections. People searching for each other in a circle, narrowly missing one another every time.

Notes

This fic is pretty heavily reliant on its workskin! Also, it's not mobile friendly at the moment. Sincerest apologies, this is the first time I've made a workskin <3
Told entirely through Craigslislist-style adverts, enjoy this untraditional prose challenge :)

Vintage Clown Dolls? — $1

I recently came into possession of a bunch of these creepy little clown doll things. Some of them have porcelain heads and hands and that kind of thing, others are just regular plush dolls. I don't know what to do with them, I just know I don't want them in my apartment anymore. They were my mother's, but now they're my problem, and they freak me out. I'll pay you to take them, I just hate having them in my space. The price is only because I couldn't figure out how to get this dang site make a "free" listing.

Edit: I think these they might be haunted. Somebody please come take them. I'll give you $15 if you just get them out of my hands.

Contact me for pictures or more info, I don't know how to attach pictures here.

To the jester/clown enthusiast in Eastside

I should've spoken with you longer, you came by to pick up those stupid clown dolls that my mother left for me. You mentioned being a jester enthusiast, whatever that means, and you really captivated me. I never caught your name, though. You did mention having some people you needed to get back to, though, so I didn't keep you. Maybe I could've just texted you again, but I don't want to encroach.

If you see this, we should talk some more. I might not like clowns, but you seemed like a fun person to be around. I trust you'll know who I am. I think I'd recognize you anywhere.

Looking for an old high school friend...

Trying to reconnect with somebody I haven't seen in a long time. I worry I saw you the other day at the farmers market. Though I doubt it was you, you used to always say how much you hated it there. Too many people peddling their wares, or something like that. I still don't get why you don't like it. You used to go by Kevin as a joke.

I doubt you'd even recognize me now, I mean, I haven't seen you since high school...

Do you still collect those swords even though you never learnt to use them properly? You're a mystery to me, now. We really should talk again.

FREE Prop/Sword Collection (Eastside)

Looking to get rid of some old swords and props. Good condition, some are custom made, most have only been displayed. Almost everything pictured is free, since I need the space.

Cane sword is part of a different listing, not part of the lot. If you're interested in it, mention it when you contact me.

Scythe and mask are offlimits, just in photos because I didn't move them.

If you feel the need, I will do swaps for some items, or any clown/jester paraphernalia. But again, not required, just want it to go to a good home where they'll be of more use and not just sitting in limbo storage.

Purple contacts

You picked up a bell that fell off of my costume and handed it back. I should've thanked you. But I knew I saw you the other day at the farmers market, I really should have said something. You kept looking my way after that, and I'm pretty sure you recognized me? You had purple contacts, and I could've sworn I know you from somewhere. We keep running into each other. I picked up those clown dolls you said were haunted last week, and I just have this hunch that. I don't know. We've met before, I don't know if you still go by Kevin, but I feel like this isn't reaching anywhere.

Thank you for giving me back the bell, though.

Reach out if you want; I'll keep an eye out for you in the mean time.

End Notes

At some point I might come back and add more to this / Make more of a story of this, but for the time being, some ambiguous "i need to find you" from the both of them. Forgive any weird characterization, I wrote this pretty quickly, lol
